Our mission is to eliminate racial and gender inequity and advance the social and economic status of all women and girls. We accomplish this by providing direct service to individuals, educating the community on relevant issues and engaging in advocacy to promote systemic change. All of our work and initiatives are focused on the three strategic platform areas of economic empowerment, leadership and health & wellness.

Form 990 - Organization's Mission

The YWCA of Olympia is a non-profit, multi-service organization that has been serving girls, women and their families in the South Sound since 1945. The YWCA of Olympia has worked tirelessly to change history—from civil rights to women's rights, from advocacy for women's health care to an end to violence against women and girls. In fact, local organizations such as Safe Place, the Rape Relief Center, and the Refugee Center, all began as YWCA of Olympia programs.

YWCXA Olympia's mission is to eliminate racism and sexism to advance the social and economic status of all women and girls. We accomplish this by providing direct service to individuals, educating the community on relevant issues and engaging in advocacy to promote systemic change. All of our work and initiatives are focused on the three strategic platform areas: economic advancement, health & safety, and racial justice and civic leadership.

The Women's Economic Empowerment Program equips low income and unemployed women with increased competence, confidence and connections so that they are better positioned to obtain employment, move out of poverty and experience economic security. We offer hands on job training, a weekly gender-responsive workshop focused on helping women develop the soft skills and confidence they need to be successful, unique career oriented networking and wellness events, and professional clothing through Kathleen's Closet. YWCA services compliment and support other job training opportunities available in Thurston County and are uniquely focused on empowering women.

Girl's Council is a cross system approach to providing gender responsive and trauma-informed models of individualized navigation, mental health and chemical dependency treatment, pro-social community involvement and restorative justice for young women ages 12-17 who are in detention, diversion, or at risk of criminal justice involvement.

Girls Only Active Learning (GOAL) is a gender responsive adaptation of aggression replacement training shown to have promising outcomes in reducing recidivism among juvenile justice involved young women. YWCA Olympia, in partnership with Thurston County Juvenile Detention, is one of the few pilot sites in Washington working with University of Washington to implement and evaluate this cutting edge approach to gender-responsive intervention.

Participatory Action Forum develops girls' leadership through a Youth Advisory Board, youth led participatory action research and social justice camps. Young women are in charge of naming the factors they believe lead to or hinder empowerment, conducting surveys and interviews of program participants, determining program strengths and developing program improvement recommendations for staff consideration.

Intercultural Foundations assesses intercultural competence to provide the community with meaningful understanding and action steps to enhance intercultural competence. Intercultural Development Inventory (IDI) is a developmental process that assesses how an individual navigates intercultural interactions and spaces. From these individual assessments, IDI then provides individual and group summaries and feedback, which may include recommended education, training, and activities to move the individual or group forward in their intercultural development continuum. IDI has been proven to bridge cultural divides while increasing the odds of success for multicultural groups in a business or a learning environment. Intercultural Foundations creates a foundation of respect and equality for all.

In addition to formal programs, the YWCA reaches and impacts the community through events and public awareness campaigns about the empowerment of girls and women. The YWCA is the voice for every woman. We speak out and take action on behalf of women and girls. The YWCA of Olympia, in partnership with over 250 volunteers each year, supports the advancement of all women in our community so that they may reach their full potential.
